THOMAS ALEXANDER – The Voice

Heritage Vocalist · Theatre Level Artist

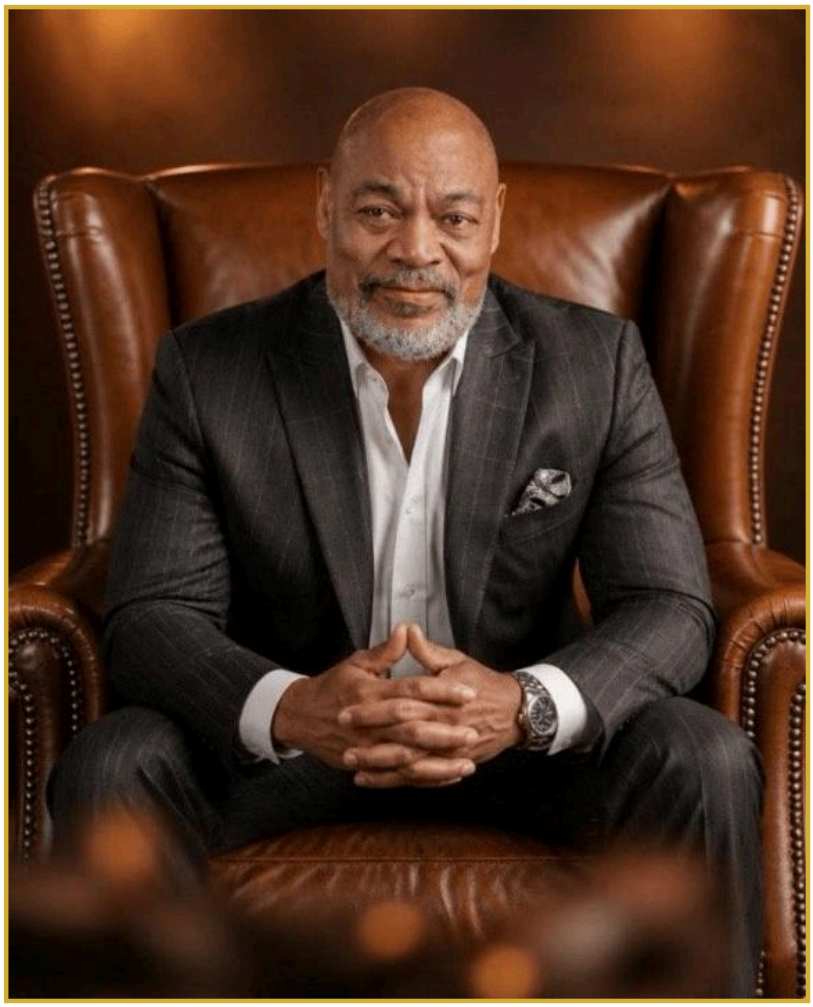

Jazz, Soul, and Blues — stories only a lifetime can sing

Thomas Alexander is a heritage vocalist and theatre-level artist whose work is rooted in lineage, story, and lived experience.

His performances carry the emotional architecture of theatre, the improvisational intelligence of jazz, and the deep timbered resonance of heritage singing. With a lifetime of lived narrative behind every note, Thomas brings audiences into a cinematic world where memory, ancestry, and artistry converge.

His artistry is shaped by a unified Black Indigenous, copper-skinned lineage, with Creek, Cherokee, and Prairie homesteader roots carried forward through the Five Feathers Living Archive. His documented family history and lived experience inform the work. Every chart, every phrase, every performance is part of that ancestral tapestry.

“Every note I sing, the living crest I wear, every chart that memory stirs — is a thread in my ancestral tapestry. This is my offering. This is who I am. This is the living archive of The Voice.”

Thomas Alexander

THE VOICE

Genres & Lanes

Golden Age Soul • Motown • Jazz Standards • Cinematic Vocal Works

Heritage-Rooted Ceremonial Works

Booking & Representation

All performance inquiries, bookings, and representation are handled exclusively through:

Five Feathers Publishing Company - Artist & Booking Division

Official Representative of: Thomas Alexander - The Voice

Booking & Contact

Edmonton & Calgary, Alberta, Canada

Email
info@thomasalexanderthevoice.com

Phone
1 (825) 440-0149

Routing available across Canada, with ensemble configuration tailored to venue, programme, available charts, and local musician resources in destination cities.

Performance Range

Duo to full big-band concerts
Soft-seat theatres, intimate rooms, corporate events, heritage ceremonies

Artist Identity

Thomas Alexander — The Voice — is a heritage-level vocalist whose work stands at the intersection of Jazz, Soul, and Blues. Rooted in a Black Indigenous, copper-skinned lineage, and serving as Chief & Elder of the Five Feathers Lineage Society,

Thomas carries a ceremonial, theatre-level presence shaped by lived experience and ancestral truth. His performances blend cinematic storytelling with emotional depth, delivering songs with the weight, clarity, and authenticity of a lifetime. Rooted in lineage and guided by the discipline of old-school vocal craft, Thomas brings audiences into a world where every note is a thread in an ancestral tapestry. His signature identity — “stories only a lifetime can sing” — defines his artistic offering.

Short Bio

Thomas Alexander — The Voice — is a heritage vocalist, theatre-level artist, and ceremonial storyteller whose work emerges from a Black Indigenous, copper-skinned lineage, shaped by ancestry and lived experience.

As Chief & Elder of the Five Feathers Lineage Society, Thomas carries forward the legacy of Creek, Cherokee, and Yamassee roots, weaving ancestral truth into every performance. His voice is grounded in emotional architecture — the discipline of singing from memory, from experience, and from the stories carried across generations.

Raised within a tradition of real singers — those who shaped their craft before machines could correct pitch — Thomas embodies an old-school vocal discipline that prioritizes tone, breath, resonance, and authenticity. His performances are cinematic, intimate, and deeply human, blending Jazz, Soul, and Blues with the weight of a lifetime. Each phrase is delivered with clarity and intention, shaped by the belief that music is not merely performance, but offering.

Thomas's artistic identity is anchored in the phrase: "Jazz, Soul, and Blues — stories only a lifetime can sing." His concerts are not simply musical events; they are lineage-rooted experiences that honor the voices, histories, and memories that shaped him. Whether performing in theatres, heritage venues, or ceremonial spaces, Thomas brings audiences into a world where every note carries ancestry, every lyric carries truth, and every moment is grounded in lived experience.

As a vocalist, memoirist, and lineage storyteller, Thomas continues to build a body of work that honors his heritage and elevates the tradition of real singers. His artistry stands as a living archive — a testament to the power of voice, memory, and identity.

Long Bio

PERFORMANCE IDENTITY

Thomas Alexander — The Voice — delivers theatre□level performances rooted in Jazz, Soul, and Blues. His concerts are cinematic, emotionally grounded, and lineage□rooted, shaped by the discipline of old□school vocal craft. Every phrase is intentional, every moment lived, and every performance carries the weight of memory, ancestry, and story.

SIGNATURE GENRES

Jazz Standards â€¢ Golden Age Soul â€¢ Motown â€¢ Blues Narratives â€¢ Cinematic Vocal Works â€¢ Heritage-Rooted Ceremonial Works

PERFORMANCE QUALITIES

Tone□anchored phrasing Emotional truth Cinematic delivery Theatre□level presence Lineage□rooted storytelling

SELECTED REPERTOIRE (Sample Programme)

A Song for You

Georgia on My Mind

Summertime

At Last

A Change Is Gonna Come

The Nearness of You

I'd Rather Go Blind

Stand by Me

Signature Thomas Alexander Interpretation
Just My Imagination

Signature Thomas Alexander Interpretation

SIGNATURE INTERPRETATIONS

Thomas Alexander approaches classic repertoire as an interpreter rather than an imitator, reshaping familiar songs through his own phrasing, musical instincts, and lived experience.

Stand by Me
A deeply soulful original interpretation with a particularly personal history. Thomas had the opportunity to meet Ben E. King and play him his arrangement of Stand by Me. Thomas remembers King saying that he loved the interpretation and had never thought of doing the song that way.

Just My Imagination
Thomas brings his own interpretation to this soul classic, allowing the song to live through his distinctive phrasing, emotional approach, and vocal identity rather than reproducing the familiar recording.

Together, these interpretations reflect a defining principle of Thomasâ€™s artistry: honour the song, honour those who made it timeless, and still find something within it that is unmistakably your own.

PERFORMANCE FORMATS

Theatre-Level Concerts â€¢ Intimate Storytelling Evenings â€¢ Jazz & Soul Showcases â€¢ Heritage-Rooted Ceremonial Performances

Audience Experience

Thomas's performances invite audiences into a world of emotional depth, ancestral resonance, and cinematic storytelling. Every note is intentional. Every phrase is lived. Every moment is ceremonial.

PERFORMANCE HIGHLIGHTS

Theatre-Level Performance
Festival & Concert Presentation
Heritage Vocalist

Ironwood Stage & Grill - Calgary, AB

Featured performances with The Ray Charles Tribute Orchestra and The Motown Tribute Orchestra.

Alvin's Jazz Club — Calgary, AB

Theatre-level vocal performance featuring Golden Age Soul, Jazz Standards, and Cinematic Vocal Works.

Five Feathers Lineage Society — Edmonton, AB

Ceremonial vocal works, heritage storytelling, and lineage-rooted performances as Chief & Elder.

Heritage-Rooted Ceremonial Works

Lineage-rooted ceremonial works including Yamassee Rising and Blue Alberta Blue (heritage submission in progress).

Festival & Concert Performances

Jazz, soul, and cinematic vocal performances presented in duo, trio, and full ensemble formats.

Signature Repertoire Moments

Golden Age Soul

Motown

Jazz Standards

Cinematic Vocal Works

Heritage-Rooted Ceremonial Works

Peer Comments & Critical Reception

Charles Austin, ARCT, BMus, ME — Professor Emeritus, MacEwan University
"I have worked with Thomas Alexander on numerous music projects for decades, and I deeply appreciate his talent and work ethic. Thomas is a gifted performer who is professional and engaging on stage. He has great vocal ability and a remarkable capacity for authentic style and lyric presentation. It is a pleasure to work with such an artist, who I believe is worthy of serious consideration and merit."

Lonnie H.

“Thomas Alexander brings a level of class and vocal mastery rarely heard today. His performance is polished, heartfelt, and unforgettable.”

“There are singers who possess a good voice, singers who have mastered their craft, and then there are those rare artists whose voices seem to carry an entire lifetime of music within them. Thomas Alexander belongs unmistakably to the third category.”

“His voice has warmth, soul, maturity and an unmistakable individuality… Thomas demonstrates the rare ability to inhabit a song rather than merely sing it.”

“The truly exceptional ones make you feel that they are singing directly to you. Thomas is one of those performers.”

— Jan Randall, Musician & Composer

TECHNICAL REQUIREMENTS

Theatre-Level â€¢ Presenter-Ready â€¢ Clean & Professional

Technical Performance Format

Duo configuration (Vocalist + Keys).
Ensemble expands for larger venues; technical requirements scale accordingly.

Sound Requirements

One high-quality vocal microphone (Shure SM7B, SM58, or equivalent)
Professional PA system suitable for room size
One monitor mix for vocalist
DI input for piano/keys
Clean stage with adequate lighting

Piano / Keys

Acoustic piano preferred
Weighted digital keyboard acceptable if tuned and professionally amplified

Stage Requirements

Minimum performance area: 8' x 8'
Clean, unobstructed stage
Adequate lighting for cinematic vocal presentation

Additional Notes

Heritage-rooted ceremonial pieces require a quiet room and attentive audience.

Technical requirements scale with ensemble size and venue capacity.

Full technical rider, stage plot, and input list are provided upon booking confirmation.

STAGE PLOT SUMMARY

Duo Configuration (Vocalist + Keys)

Ensemble expands for larger venues; stage plot scales accordingly.

Vocal Position

Front-center, with clear sightlines to pianist.
One vocal microphone on boom or straight stand.
Monitor positioned slightly to the vocalist’s left.

Piano / Keys Position

Stage left or stage right depending on venue layout.

Keyboard stand or acoustic piano bench positioned for clear communication with vocalist.
DI or mic inputs placed behind or beside the instrument.

General Layout

Clean, unobstructed performance area
Minimum space: 8' x 8'
Adequate lighting for cinematic vocal presentation
Cables routed safely and discreetly

INPUT LIST OVERVIEW

Duo Configuration (Vocalist + Keys)
Full input list provided upon booking for expanded ensembles.

Inputs — Duo

1. Vocal Microphone
XLR input
Standard vocal channel with EQ and reverb available

2. Piano / Keys
Stereo DI (L/R) preferred
Single DI acceptable for smaller rooms
Keyboard amplification routed through house PA

Monitor Mixes

One monitor mix for vocalist
Optional second monitor for pianist depending on venue size

ENSEMBLE EXPANSION NOTE

Duo • Trio • Quartet • Full Ensemble

The ensemble expands based on venue size, programming, and presenter needs.

Technical requirements scale proportionally and are provided in a full rider upon booking.

Duo (Standard EPK Format)

Vocalist + Keys
Minimal technical footprint

Ideal for intimate rooms, concert presentations, and soft-seat theatres

Trio (Expanded)

Vocalist + Keys + Bass
Additional DI input
Additional monitor mix
Slightly expanded stage plot

Quartet (Full Small Ensemble)

Vocalist + Keys + Bass + Drums
Full input list
Drum mic kit

Expanded stage plot and lighting cues

Full Ensemble (Large Venue Format)

Vocalist + Keys + Bass + Drums + Guitar / Horns
Complete technical rider
Full stage plot
Lighting cues for cinematic presentation

Ideal for festivals, theatres, and heritage events

Presenter Note

Full technical rider, stage plot, and input list are provided upon booking confirmation. Requirements scale with ensemble size and venue capacity.

Five Feathers Publishing Company
Five Feathers Lineage Society
Thomas Alexander — The Voice
Heritage Vocalist
Theatre-Level Artist
Ceremonial Storyteller

Closing Identity

Thomas Alexander - The Voice stands in a living tradition of musical royalty. Every note he sings carries ancestral memory, cultural continuity, and the elegance of a vocalist shaped by lineage, mastery, and lived experience. His performances honour the past, elevate the present, and offer audiences a voice rooted in heritage, truth, and timeless artistry.

Presented with care and professionalism by Five Feathers Publishing Company - Artist & Booking Division, this work continues the living archive of The Voice.